GENERAL PERSHING WARNS AGAINST TOO MUCH PACIFICISM

SOLON ASKS PROBE INTO NATURAL GAS SITUATION IN OHIO

Commander A. E. F. Forces Favors Disarmament Only When Agreed To By Five Great Powers

Not Time For One Nation To Disarm While Others Continue Armament, He Insists

Says Nations of World Know United States Ability to Out-Strip Others.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 2.—A warning against pacificism and unpreparedness was given the House Naval Committee today by General Pershing who appeared to discuss world armament. While expressing approval of the proposal for a world disarmament conference the former commander of the American Expeditionary Forces said the United States should go ahead with its present navy and army programs until a definite agreement had been reached by at least the five great world powers.

"It is unsafe and unwise for one nation to disarm at such a time as this unless the others do likewise," General Pershing asserted. "I think I am in a position to know better than any other man what unpreparedness meant at the beginning of the world war."

"The nations of the world know," the General said, "that America's economic position would enable it to out-strip the world in military preparedness if it so desires and therefore they would realize the sincerity of a move for disarmament if initiated by this country and would subscribe to it gladly."

DAVIS GIVES OUT HIS NEW PLAN

Governor Would Set Up Cabinet Similar to Federal Plan

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, February 2.—Governor Davis tonight announced his plan for reorganization of the state government after going over it with the legislative committee on reorganization.

It purposes sweeping changes in the state government and the setting up of a Governor's cabinet similar to the federal plan, with ten important administrative department heads take the place of all state boards and commissions excepting only the Tax Commission on the Industrial Commission and the Public Utilities Commission, the Educational Institutions and normal schools, which are to remain under board control.

The following departments would be created: Department of Finance, Commerce, Public Works, Agriculture, Health, Labor, Registration, Education, Public Welfare and Military.

The head of each department would be appointed by the Governor subject to confirmation by the Senate, their terms to end with the expiration of the term of the Governor.

It is pointed out by the Governor that it is not now possible for the Governor to confer with heads of departments as a cabinet because of the large number of independent officers, boards and commissions. The plan does not interfere with the functions of elective state officers.

Women Object to Abolishment Of Non-Partisan Judicial Ballot.

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, February 2.—A legislative investigation into the production and distribution of natural gas in Ohio was proposed today by Senator Bender, of Cuyahoga county.

In a resolution scheduled to be introduced by him this afternoon, Senator Bender declares that the production and distribution of natural gas in Ohio has been loosely regulated by the state, resulting in great waste of the product and big profits to the gas producers and distributors at the expense of conservation.

Senator Bender's resolution asks for the appointment of a joint committee of two members of the Senate and two members of the House who shall act with the Attorney General in making a complete investigation of the subject.

Members of the Ohio League of Women Voters appeared before the House Committee on Elections today in opposition to the bill by Representative Kuhns, of Montgomery county, to abolish the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

RECENT CUTS IN OIL HALT DRILLS

Wild-Catting Operations On The Decline in West Virginia

Gas Companies Have Not Started to Retrench

(By Associated Press)

Mannington, W. Va., February 2.—The recent cut in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil to $5 a barrel is beginning to be felt in the important fields of northern West Virginia.

Many new projects which were to have been set going with the opening of spring have been temporarily abandoned, while field work already under way will be confined to wells which will be completed in order to hold leases, or which would result in heavy loss should operation be suspended.

Natural gas companies operating in this field have not yet commenced to retrench, but persons close to the industry declare that drilling generally will be suspended until operating costs can be reduced.

Oil men are divided in opinion as to the duration of the slump. In some quarters, three dollar a barrel oil is being predicted, while in others the opinion is held that reduced production will quickly return prosperity to the industry.

Bonus Will be Abolished Say Officials.

(By Associated Press)

New York, February 2.—Reports circulated in this city that the Standard Oil Company was planning a ten percent wage reduction affecting its employees in all parts of the United States were given added currency today by news of cuts made by Standard Oil subsidiaries in widely separated fields—New Jersey and West Virginia.

DAWES STRIKES BACK AT CRITICS

Points to Record of Achievement of United States Armies in France

"Swears Like a Trooper" During His Recital

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 2.—Chas. E. Dawes, head of the Bureau of Supply Procurement in France during the war, struck back today at critics who, he said, had attempted to belittle the American army's achievements in France, called as a witness in rebuttal by Democratic members of the House War Investigating Committee.

General Dawes strode up and down the floor and "swearing like a trooper without apology" told how General Pershing's plan for co-ordinating the armies and supplies saved the day against Germany.

His recital of achievement was dramatic.

Declaring the army was clean in all its purchases and business methods, General Dawes said there was some comfort even at this late day in finding now a desire to set down an honorable record of its work.

"Every precaution was made to prevent extortionate prices for supplies in France," he said.

WIDELY KNOWN CITIZEN DIES TUESDAY NIGHT

Mr. Nathan Creamer, Prominent Business Man And Retired Farmer Dies At Jeffersonville.

For Years Was President Of Farmers Bank—Wealthy Land Owner.

Mr. Nathan Creamer, widely known banker, capitalist and farmer of Jeffersonville, passed quietly into the great beyond Tuesday night at 9:30 o'clock after a year of failing health, due to a serious heart trouble, which, during the last few weeks forbade all hope of recovery.

Mr. Creamer was one of the representative men of Fayette county, highly honored in his own community and wherever he was known through his large business interests, and his death removes a man who will be greatly missed. The owner of close to 800 acres of land, and extensively engaged with his son, Jess C., in progressive farming and stock raising, President of the Farmers' Bank of Jeffersonville for a long term of years and actively interested in its management, Mr. Creamer found time for whatever pertained to the welfare of his community and responded generously to every worthy while movement or philanthropy asking his assistance. He was a man of keen mentality, thoroughly abreast of the times and so companionable and warmhearted that he had doubly endeared himself to his friends, to whom his death brings deep personal sorrow.

Nathan Creamer was a worthy descendant of pioneer stock, the first member of his family, George Creamer, his grandfather, locating in this county in 1816. Seventy-six years ago he was born on the farm where he was reared and died. He is survived by a widow and one son, Jess C., who made the home with him. He was deeply devoted to his family and much sympathy goes out to them in their great bereavement. Three grandchildren also survive, Edith E., Anna and Ansel, Jr., children of an older son, Ansel, who died some years ago, one brother, U. G. Creamer and one sister, Mrs. Mary A. Tobin. The late A. R. Creamer, of this city, was a brother.

Politically, Mr. Creamer was an active Republican and held various offices at the hands of his party. He was president of the Jeffersonville district school board for some time, and was a member of the Methodist Protestant church and a man of deep religious feeling.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the home near Jeffersonville, burial to be made in Fairview cemetery.

Money can not purchase love and happiness, but it will buy foreign morticians. They will go up later.

TUESDAY DOLLAR DAY PROVES TO BE BIG SUCCESS

Dollar Day proved its claim to red letter honors on the calendar of movable feasts in Washington C. H. Tuesday, when, in spite of a multitude of handicaps, this popular event came through with flying colors to the general delight of merchants and customers alike.

It was proved conclusively to merchants that combined pulling power backed by real values will attract buyers whatever the season.

All day long the downtown section was crowded with convalescences of Dollar Day shoppers, many of whom came from neighboring towns and counties braving bad roads and disconcerting cold and threatening weather.

Townpeople responded with the usual enthusiasm and many of the stores were crowded throughout the day with shoppers.

Tuesday saw the first real test of the Dollar Day, for it was the first of these events held in the face of unseasonable weather and a number of competing interests. And the moral success was as satisfying to merchants as the financial.

The Dollar Day has had several very gratifying effects: It has strengthened the confidence between merchant and customer. It has increased the trading radius of Washington C. H. It has introduced buyers from a distance to local merchants they had not before met. It has promoted a spirit of closer co-operation among merchants. And it has pointed a way to the merchants to disarming merchants. And it has pointed the benefit of his customers and home people.

It is probable that the Dollar Day will be observed often in the future.

TWELVE MEMBERS ON FIRST DAY

Just one dozen recruits were added to the machine gun company of the National Guard being recruited Captain B. E. Paul expects to add a number of new recruits at the Fish and Game Protective Association banquet at Memorial Hall.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY CALLED

Acting upon the request of Prosecutor Ray Maddox, a special grand jury Wednesday morning was ordered called for Wednesday morning, February 9, on the first day Judge C. A. Reid is on the bench in the common pleas court.

Prosecutor Maddox's action is based on a desire to have speedy action taken in several cases now pending particularly those of the two automobile thieves, Oscar Smith and Homer Jrooms, who would otherwise remain in jail for some three months at a considerable cost above that necessary in summoning a grand jury.

Six or seven cases have developed since the grand jury met last month and as the January grand jury was dismissed, other jurors will be obtained.

MANY ARE WAITING UNTIL APRIL FIRST

There are many auto owners in this county who are not running their cars but are waiting until April 1 to secure the 1921 licenses.

After the first of April there will be a one fourth reduction in the cost of licenses. For this reason many cars are in storage or are jacked up in the owner's garage.

The Fayette Auto Club will prepare or a mild rush for licenses about that time.

His talk was of the preparation young people are making for their lives in life.

GROUNDHOG DID NOT SEE HIS SHADOW

Mr. Ground Hog came to the door of his den Wednesday morning, noted the cloud cast sky, sniffed at the snow laden air, and went back for another snooze.

Those who believe in signs say an early spring is on its way.

HORSE IS KILLED BUGGY WRECKED

Some time during Tuesday night a horse attached to a buggy, was killed by an automobile on the Columbus Pike one mile east of this city, and the animal and wrecked buggy left on the road where the accident occurred.

SHE WASN'T SICK BUT HER CHILDREN WERE

Six Months of Care and Worry Were Too Much for Her

GOT THIN, NERVOUS, TIRED

Her Brother-in-Law, a Doctor, Said She Was Anemic, and Advised Pepto-Mangan

Here is a story of a strong, vigorous mother who never knew what ill-health was. But three years ago her two little boys got into the habit of being sick.

Six months of care and worry were too much for her and brought to light the fact, that, with all her apparent vigor, she really was anemic. She lost flesh, couldn't sleep well and got nervous.

Then the doctor (her brother-in-law) prescribed Pepto-Mangan.

She said: "Fred explained a lot about the special sort of iron-content in Pepto-Mangan and a lot of other things that I didn't understand, but what I do understand is that a bottle of pepto-Mangan is always going to be in my medicine closet as long as I live. What ever it contains, I don't know or care, but I do know that it builds me up when I get run down, and that's enough for me."

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lower vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package, without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

In the Duroc we have combined. They stand high-class—pre-eminent—and are second to none, when it comes to farrowing and raising large litters. They have big bone, and high backs to carry their big bodies to market. There are more red hogs marketed each year, than all other colors combined. At the State Fairs and big shows, Durocs out-number, and out-class all other breeds. The grain market is on the downward grade every day. Are you going to market corn at 50 cents or less per bushel at the elevator—or at $1.00 per bushel by the hogs-plus-corn route, the only way to make corn pay? We have yearling sows bred for last of February and early March farrow; Spring gilts bred for April farrow. Also two good yearling boars.

Real Patriotism

One cannot help wondering sometimes if it is necessary for the preservation of our free institutions of government, that men who attain prominence in the public service should, solely because of that, become the target for all the abuse and false slander that cheap politicians and "yellow" newspapers see fit to heap upon them.

Charles M. Schwab, one of America's greatest and most successful business men—a man who rose from the humble walks of life to his present position in the front rank of the great business men of the world—is one of the public servants to feel the slanderous attacks of the evil thinking and designing petty politicians and expert accountants who can "find" any information desired by those who employ them.

The fact that Mr. Schwab abandoned his own great projects and gave his time and his talent to the service of his country in time of need did not weigh in the balance at all. Mr. Schwab had been one of the men who had done something worth while during the memorable war period. The people knew of his great work and his unselfish patriotism and he must be destroyed. It would not serve the purpose of the petty politicians and the rain check congressmen and senators to allow the record of Mr. Schwab's work to pass into history without smearing it with the black blot of slander.

Mr. Schwab did not see fit to remain quiet under the insinuations of the half-baked investigation but pushed the conspirators until his complete vindication was forthcoming. True, strong man that he is, his deep emotion caused him to "break down" before his investigators when he should have used a piece of unpadded lead pipe on their heads, but his strength of character prevailed and the attempt to blot his record of service was thwarted.

An immense amount of injury to Mr. Schwab had already been done—injury irreparable—but he is not the only big patriotic history-making man who has been hounded into physical collapse during the past five years by slanderers whose place of prominence will not endure for long.

Mr. Schwab has reason to feel deeply aggrieved at the treatment he has received but he has plenty of good company. It is not the loyal American people who slander him and seek to tear down his work, but only the leaders of the malcontents who seek to further their own selfish interests.

The patriotism that compels men to respond to the call to render public service and thus expose themselves to the attacks of the political coyotes is a marvelous thing. It requires courage as well as unselfish devotion.

Time to Shift

What a great difference there is between the business that is managed intelligently by some responsible head who appreciates the necessity of pleasing the public, upon whose patronage the success of that business depends, and a business that just runs itself.

A business that is allowed to drift along without any thought, on the part of the one whose chief concern it should be, is doomed to ruin no matter how big it is nor how promising the prospects are.

No business, large or small (not even a monopoly) can succeed, for long, ignoring the rights of the public.

On the other hand, no matter how modest the beginning, no matter how little of promise the prospects warrant, the business that is intelligently and energetically operated by someone who appreciates his obligations and his duties, is headed for certain success.

One of the evils of war was the inclination, which grew up as a part of the rush demand of the time, to allow business to run itself, trusting to the disinclination of a patriotic and busy public, to find fault or to discriminate.

There are, unfortunately, a number of business concerns in the country which have drifted beyond the safety zone and must be brought back to safer moorings.

The public from this time on is going to discriminate and to demand its just dues from business and the man who has lost his incentive to make his business a success, has forgotten that the public has any rights, has turned his business over to incompetent hirlings to run, is headed for the rocks of ruin unless he recognizes the warning which is manifest on every hand.

ANNUAL FEAST ATTENDED BY 1350 MEMBERS

Thirteen hundred and fifty men, from all walks of life in the city and county, attended the annual banquet of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association held at Memorial Hall last night, and so great was the throng that it was necessary to prepare the tables a third time to accommodate the overflow from the first two tables, 600 being seated at the first and second tables.

Regardless of the fact that upward of 300 more attendees than was anticipated, all were given liberal helpings of turkey and the trimmings.

Those in charge managed the affair in a most admirable manner considering the magnitude of the undertaking and it was a jolly throng which packed Memorial Hall as never before.

Orchestral jazz in abundance and tip-top moving pictures, as well as music by a professional accordion player pleased the big crowds.

By almost unanimous vote the assembly went on record opposing the adoption of House Bill No. 59 which would make a radical change in the fishing season.

I. S. Myers, former mayor of Akron and member of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture was present and declared the gathering by far exceeded everything of its kind in Ohio if not in the entire United States.

J. A. Struber, of the Fish and Game Department also was present.

AUTO STOLEN DURING NIGHT

A Chevrolet automobile belonging to Birtus Thornton was stolen from in front of the Colonial theater sometime between six o'clock and nine o'clock Wednesday night. The loss was reported to the police and every effort is being made to locate the thieves.

POETRY FOR TODAY

QUESTIONS
You ask me what the stars are for,
a'twinkle in the sky;
You ask me what the moon's about,
a'sailing up so high;
You want to know what makes the wind,
and where it goes, and why?
You seem to think I know so much, so poor a thing as I.

Suppose I said the stars were lamps
to light the Milky Way
Of Lady Moon, where she must sail
until the break o' day;
That winds were there to sing her song, to carol soft and gay?
Suppose I told you all these things
when you come in from play?

You wouldn't know much more of life so when you turn to me
And ask me many puzzling things about the mystery
Of why we are, and how we are, I wish that I were free
To go and question someone else who wiser far would be.

IMMIGRATION BILL UNLIKELY TO BECOME LAW

Time Short For Necessary Conference of House and Senate

New Bill Provides For Permanent Control of Immigration By Quota.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Washington, February 1.—To the almost hopeless jam in which the Senate is involved one more important bill will be added this week. The bill to restrict immigration ought to come out of the Senate committee promptly. This committee has had custody of the bill for the more than six weeks that have elapsed since the bill passed the house on December 12.

The bill that will come out of the senate will be utterly different from the bill the house passed. The house bill aimed at meeting an emergency, and provided for a practically complete suspension for one year, during which it was planned to draft another measure which should express our permanent immigration policy.

The senate bill will assume that there is no emergency, and will express a permanent plan for regulating immigration. The principal of it is wholly new and consists of limiting the immigration from any one country to 5 per cent of the number of immigrants of that nationality already here.

Admission by Quota

The intention to change the one-sided character that our immigration has had in recent years. Previous to twenty years ago the bulk of our immigrants came from western and northern Europe, England, Ireland, Wales, Sweden, Norway, Germany and Denmark. Recently that source of immigration has been eclipsed by increasing quantities from eastern and southeastern Europe, Russia, Rumania, Austria, Italy, Serbia, Greece and Turkey.

The senate bill, taking as a basis, for example, the large number of persons of British stock already here, and permitting 5 per cent of that number to enter in any one year, would make room for as many immigrants of that stock as are likely to wish to come. But in the case of the countries of southeastern Europe, the 5 per cent rule would admit many fewer than the number who would like to come. For example from 1910 until 1916 the average immigration from Russia was 211,000. The 5 per cent rule would reduce this to 86,000 a year. Similarly the annual immigration from Italy has been 221,000 and the proposed rule would reduce this to 68,000 in any one year.

Not Likely to Pass

Regardless of the merit of this senate bill, the effect of introducing a wholly new bill is likely to be the passage of no bill at all. The consideration of the senate bill will involve several days of debate. Furthermore, since the senate's bill is so completely different from the house bill already passed, conference between the two houses will be necessary. That will consume time. The necessity of repassing in each house whatever may come out of the conference as a compromise will consume more time. Since fewer than twenty-seven days of the present session now remain, and since the calendar of the senate is already crowded with bills that have earnest advocates, the likelihood is that the whole subject of immigration will be thrown into the discard.

This delay on the part of the senate is the subject of much blame from the advocates of the bill. In the house, the house wrote the bill debated it, amended it twice, and passed it, all within six days of the opening of the session on December 6. In more than eight weeks, the senate has made no progress except the holding of a few days' hearings by the senate committee. In the house the demand for the bill is overwhelming. In its final passage the house vote was 293 to 41. The senate is much less friendly to the bill.

THINGS TO KNOW IN THE WINTERTIME

WOODCHUCK DAY

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

It was Monapini that told Ruth Pilgrim, and Ruth Pilgrim told the little Pilgrims, and the little Pilgrims told the little Dutchman and the little Dutchman told it to all the Rumours, and the grandchild of one of these little Rumours told it to me, so you see I have it straight and on good authority, this Sixth Secret of the Woods.

The story runs that every year the wise Woodchuck retires to sleep in his cozy home off the subway that he made, when the leaves began to fall, and he has heard the warning. Mother Carey has sung the death-song of the red leaves; sung in a soft voice that yet reaches the farthest hills.

"Gone are the summer birds, Hide, hide, ye slow-foots. Hide, for the blizzard comes."

And Mother Earth, who is Making my bosom my little ones." And the wise wood-chuck waits not till the blizzard comes but hides while he may make good housing, and sleeps for three long moons.

But ever on the second sun of the Hunger-moon (and this is the Sixth Secret) he rouses up and ventures forth. And if so be that the sun is in the sky, and the snow on the bosom of his Mother Earth, so that his shadow shall appear on it, he goeth back to sleep again for one and a half moons more—for six long weeks. But if the sky be dark with clouds and the Earth all bare of snow so that no shadow shows, he says, "The blizzard is over, there is food when the ground is bare," and ends his sleep.

This is the tale, and this much I know is true: In the North, if he venture forth on Woodchuck Day, he sees both sun and snow, so sleeps again; in the South there is no snow that day, and he sleeps no more; and in the land between, he sleeps in a cold winter, and in an open winter rouses to live his life.

These things I have seen, and they fit with the story of Monapini, so you see the little Rumour told me true.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

The home of Mrs. Lou McKee, of East street, staged a very pretty wedding Tuesday night at half past eight o'clock, when the only daughter, Helen Jane, became the bride of Mr. William J. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith, of Xenia.

The rooms were fragrant with spring flowers, roses, freesias and narcissi in graceful arrangement and one corner of the living room was banked with palms to make a background for the ceremony.

It was a wedding of much simplicity no attendants no music and the wedding guests confined to the immediate families.

Rev. K. B. Alexander, of Grace M. E. Church, performed the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride, a petite and pretty brunette, was smartly attired in brown suit of peach bloom, trimmed in dyed squirrel, georgette blouse, a perfect match in color, trimmed in henna, hat of brown batavia straw, brown suede slippers and gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of narcissi, freesia, for-get-me-nots, with center of three pale pink rose buds, tied with ribbon streamers.

Following the ceremony a two course dinner was served. The bride's table was lovely, with crystal center basket of roses, sweet peas and stelia, illuminated with pink candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. McKee, who entered, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, on the 10:17 train for Xenia, will be at home in Xenia, where the bride is now residing, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are by no means new to her leaving Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Smith is one of the younger girls sweet and charming and a favorite with many outside of her own little circle. She graduated from the Washington High School in 1915 and spent the following year at Mt. Saint Joseph's Academy, specializing in music. She is an accomplished pianist and will be an acquisition to Xenia's musical and social circles.

The bridegroom served fourteen months overseas as Regimental Sgt. Major in the Army Corps Headquarters. He is now in partnership with his father in a self serve grocery in Xenia.

The guests from out of town were the bride's brother, Mr. Russell McKee, of Akron; the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith, and sister, Mrs. Ruth Scott, of Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Carr of Jeffersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Hays of Bloomington entertained with a progressive "500" party at the home of the latter, Tuesday evening.

It was a delightful affair, five tables of players participating in the spirited game. The woman's prize, a beautiful corsage was won by Mrs. Hamilton Rodgers, the man's by Mr. Ronald Dick, Mr. Glenn Brock was awarded the consolation.

A color scheme of red and white was carried out in hearts and cupid's introducing pretty suggestions of Valentine's day. Carnations of the prevailing colors and white hyacinths were also employed in the decorations.

At a late hour a delicious two course luncheon was served after which the guests lingered to enjoy congenial sociability of the home, so cordially extended.

The Cecilians devoted their program Tuesday afternoon to "Slavic Music—Bohemia."

Current events in the musical world were presented by Mrs. Lizzie W. Barnes; Miss Del Lanum presented "Bohemian Music" Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson, "The First Bohemian Opera"; Mrs. Nina M. Craig, Antonin Dvorak; Mrs. Lillie G. Davis, "Dvorak's Greatest Work."

There were two delightful piano numbers, Mrs. Elva H. Kelley gave brilliant rendition to "Polonaise Op. 16"—Slunicko—following her usual custom of playing without the music, and Mrs. Ethel A. Foster, of Mt. Sterling played beautifully, Chopin's—"Fantasie Impromptu C sharp Minor Op. 66."

The meeting was a very enjoyable one.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Woods cordially extended the hospitality of their country home on Waterloo pike Tuesday evening, entertaining members of the Order Daughters of America together with near neighbors and friends numbering forty in all.

It was a really sociable gathering all enjoying the old time dances until a late hour when tempting refreshments were served.

The department of Social Science, Philanthropy and Industrial conditions presented the program at the Browning Club, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Olive L. Teeters, chairman.

The quotation for the evening was, "The education form the common mind, just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined"—Pope.

Mrs. Jeanette Haver had an excellent paper on "Belgian Child Welfare" emphasizing the important fact that "Everyman's Child" of every community has the chance for proper citizenship, should have good wise parents with the father's earnings to provide a fair standard of family life—decent food and clothing—proper housing, a true education and opportunity for clear, active, recreation.

Having in the main been provided with all these, Belgian's children were happy, intelligent, comfortable little folks.

Put with the war Belgium's child welfare problems increased, losing heavily in numbers by lessened births and by deaths of children over nursing age—the greatest losses in the reduction of physical vigor, the dwarfing of body and retardation of mind all by underfeeding, these deplorable conditions existing within ten weeks after the beginning of the war.

No supplies could pass in or out of Belgium; the Belgians began rationing themselves and the government took possession of the small food on hands.

"The American Commission for Relief in Belgium, was organized and Municipal kitchens were opened in every city. An appeal through Mr. Hoover to the school children of America, Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians to the women of America and many others brought relief. But there is still constant call from this starving little country.

Mrs. Teeters in a very comprehensive paper treated of the interesting subject, "The Bobbins of Belgium and other Industries."

Belgium is noted for its exquisite and artistic laces, Bruges, Ypres and Turnhout are called the lace cities, but since the war, there are but two.

Mrs. Teeters traced the history of the bobbin lace from Italy, and its spread through other countries. In the beginning each lace worker wove her own fancies of pretty legends into work, such as the romance of the young fisherman, the woodland spider spinning his web, a soft breeze wafting the wing of a butterfly and the fluttering petals of a rose. The union of the pieces was a successful operation, making Belgium in a measure famous for this industry.

Of other industries of Belgium, Mrs. Teeters said, "Belgium owes much to her industry for it is industry that has steadily won the battle of her civic freedom."

Industry and labor is the name of a special department of the government, which is in direct control of all industries, the exports and the imports. There are twenty-three Chambers of Commerce and Manufactures established in the principal towns.

The chief industrial products of this country are those connected with linen, wool, cotton, metal and leather, with many others, carpets and the porcelain of Tournay, the cloth of Verviers, the extensive foundries and machine works of Liege.

Honoring Mrs. S. H. Wise, of Parkersburg, W. Va., the very charming guest of Mrs. Carey Persinger, Mrs. Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton entertained Tuesday at an informal and thoroughly delightful luncheon.

Covers were laid with the hostess and honor guest for Mesdames Persinger, Lulu H. Robinson, J. P. Dennis, R. S. Quinn, Josephine Kerr, G. W. Blakeley.

Miss Dorothy Fullerton assisted in the hospitalities.

Mr. C. Pearce Ballard returned the first of the week from an eastern trip, stopping at New York City, Boston, Mass., Philadelphia and other places of interest.

Mr. M. C. Myers left Wednesday morning for Kokomo, Ind., to attend the funeral of his grand mother, Mrs. Margaret Myers.

Mr. G. S. Threlkeld of Jeffersonville was a business visitor in Springfield, Tuesday.

Mr. Stanley Carr, of South Charleston, spent Wednesday with Mr. G. L. Carr and family at Jeffersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Welter Shoop spent the past two days in Cincinnati.

Miss Lillian Taylor has returned from Columbus where she received special treatment for her eyes and has entered the Payette Hospital for treatment.

Dr. H. L. Stitt is at his office after recovering from an illness of almost two weeks.

Dr. W. E. Ireland has returned from some weeks stay at Battle Creek, Mich., much improved in health.

Mrs. Pearl Snider and son Maynard, of Hillsboro, were guests of Mrs. Minnie Flee and Mrs. Lettie Dews the first of the week.

AN UNUSUAL GIFT GOES TO FUND FOR STARVING CHILDREN

A most touching story has been discovered in connection with a gift of $27.00 to the fund for European War Relief Work.

When the call went out in the city schools for the children to save their pennies for a week and give it to assist the children of Europe who are starving by the thousands, one little boy in the beginners' grade at Sunnyside brought to Miss Agnes Kerrigan $27.00.

Wondering why he happened to give so large amount to the fund when the other children were doing their utmost with pennies, questions finally brought out the story.

The money had been saved by the boy's little sister and invested in War Savings Stamps. Last summer the little sister died. The mother believed that the money could be put to no better use than to be spent in saving the life of other children. So the money the little girl had so carefully saved and invested for her country was again sent on its mission of helpfulness.

S. S. ELECTION

The result of the election of officers of the First Presbyterian Sunday School was as follows: Dr. Fred D. Woollard, superintendent; Mr. A. J. Walker, assistant superintendent; Miss Grace McHenry, secretary-treasurer; Miss Lulu Harvey, assistant; Miss Gayle Bowen, librarian; Mrs. J. T. Tuttle and Mrs. Amy W. Hudson, choiristers; Miss Helen Hamm, organist; Miss Elizabeth Sprenger, pianist; Miss Mazie Kessler, orchestra leader.

A pawned opportunity is seldom redeemed.

SCHOOL GRADES SAVE PENNIES FOR ONE WEEK

Superintendent William McClain asked the pupils of the grades in the city schools to deny themselves the few pennies which they spend for just one week.

It was expected that $90 might be raised from European War Relief. The week was up Monday and when the superintendent totaled the figures it gave the sum of $181.84.

One of the banner rooms was Mrs. Tuttle's eighth grade with $20.65. One of the pupils brought in ten dollars which had been a Christmas gift by saying that she would get more happiness from the gift by passing it on for the relief of the starving children of Europe.

Another banner room was Miss Kerrigan's beginners' grade with $37. This large amount contained $27 brought in as a memorial to a little sister by a brother.

The report of the schools by grades is as follows:

Eighth grades	$ 25.45
Seventh grades	$ 14.62
Sixth grades	$ 18.69
Fifth grades	$ 14.74
Fourth grades	$ 8.24
Third grades	$ 21.56
Second grades	$ 21.21
First grades	$ 5.38

LOCAL MAN HEADS REORGANIZATION

Henry W. Jones of this city has been elected to membership on the Board of Directors of the West Jefferson Creamery Co. as result of his efforts in the past few months toward reorganizing the company, which was thrown into the hands of receivers last summer. To Mr. Jones, it is claimed, more than to any other individual, belongs credit for reorganization of the company.

Concerning the reorganization the Ohio State Journal says in part:

"As forecast, F. E. Shaffmaster, president of the Commonwealth Saving Bank, Parsons Ave., yesterday was elected president of the Jefferson Creamery Co., recently incorporated with a capital stock of $250,000, to take over the business of the West Jefferson Creamery Co., from the receivers, Shaffmaster had been one of the receivers, and seeing the possibilities of the plant, took a foremost part in the formation of the new company. He will continue as the head of the bank, looking after the creamery business also. E. H. McCloud was chosen vice president, and F. L. Miller, secretary and treasurer. These three and Hugh Huntington, also a former receiver; C. W. Kellenberger, Newark; Henry W. Jones, Washington C. H. and J. W. Jones, superintendent of the School for the Deaf, are the directors. Henry W. Jones was highly commended by other directors for the work he did in keeping the stock holders in Fayette County, with an aggregate of $11,000 stock, in line for the new organization."

WAYNE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Owing to the crowded condition in the primary room a new teacher has been hired and all rooms have been shifted. Miss Doris Rife is the new teacher and has charge of second grade. The seventh and eighth grades under Mrs. Boyer have been transferred to second floor.

Miss Arnold was out last week on account of illness, Mrs. French supplied for her.

There will be an art exhibit at the school February the 16th, 11th, and 24th for purpose of increasing appreciation of art and for getting pictures for school.

Rev. Moffet visited the high school Monday morning. He gave brief talk on four-fold education which was very interesting. He strongly emphasized the physical and spiritual as well as the mental and moral training.

Everyone enjoying the trip to Bloomingburg last week, the girls said to lose but were content that they had fought a good fight even if it was a losing fight. A little more practice on goal shooting and then re-venge. Everyone was well pleased with the fine treatment that the Bloomingburg folk gave us, of course he boys were very much elated to ake the scalps of the Bloomingburg High School as it was their first victory of the season.

XENIA GOES AFTER B. & O. RAILROAD

That the B. & O. railroad company has neglected the crossings in Xenia much the same as in this city, and Xenia has decided to use a very effective weapon in bringing the road to improve the crossings by enforcing ordinances limiting the speed of all rains within the city limits.

The Xenia Gazette, in speaking of he affair, says:

"Action of the Baltimore & Ohio alroad in the alleged failure to comply with the order of the city to blank its right of way at all newly saved street crossings where the planking was torn up to establish a trade may lead to old ordinances regarding the speed of trains and the docking of crossings to be enforced.

"Such notice was served on the alroad in a letter written by City Janager Kenyon Riddle Monday. It is pointed out that during the paving work, the planking along the right of lay had to be torn up, as the roadway was lowered to meet the proper grade. The road, it is said, has since ignored orders of the city to replank he roadway, especially at street intersections.

"A ten day ultimatum given the road by the city some time ago was totally ignored, it was brought out at a recent commission meeting. For hat reason the city will enforce the peed ordinances which have been standing idle on the statute books since the enfranchisement of the alroads here.

"The speed ordinance provides that rains shall not travel through the city at a greater speed than six miles in hour, which is considered drastic in these times, and has not been enforced for that reason, and there is also another ordinance concerning the docking of streets by trains."

NEXT AUTO TAGS TO BE CHANGED

Autoists are protesting against having an automobile tag as large as a barn door on the front and rear of their machines and as a result the next automobile tags will probably be reduced in size.

Before the first month of the new year is passed, and with more than 150,000 of the automobile state license tags yet undelivered, discussions are under way for the 1922 plates. Much complaint has been made regarding the length of the present tag, and a way seems to have been found to make the tag shorter next year. It may be a little deeper, but not so long.

The plan under discussion is to take away the word Ohio at either end of the tag and directly under the numbers put the word "Ohio" and the figures "1922". It is also planned to put a comma after the figures above the thousand mark. As it is there is difficulty in reading the number on a passing machine, especially if it is speeding away after an accident.

MASCOT OF FOURTH WILL RETURN TO HIS OLD HOME

Local Veterans Remember
Lad Whom They Brought Back In Spanish-American War Days.

Boy Protected By Members
Of Famous Regiment
master.

Memories of the Spanish-American War were brought back to local veterans of the old Fourth Ohio Infantry when they read a few days ago a news dispatch stating that Cornelio Varga was going back to Porto Rico.

In 1899 the Fourth Ohio was assisting in driving the Spaniards out of Porto Rico and one of the towns visited was Guayamas. There the soldiers found a little boy, a native of the island, half starved and almost naked. When the regiment left Cornelio went with it. When the regiment returned to the states he went along as the official mascot.

When the regiment was mustered out the boy was placed in the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Xenia and when he grew to young manhood was given a clerkship in the Columbus post office.

But Varga never could acclimate himself to this country. The balmy atmosphere of the Porto Rican home was not like the cold and snow of Ohio and his health began to fail.

In the meantime Varga, now a man, had married and two children were born. He realized that if his health was to be retained he must make a change. Friends spoke to Senator Frank B. Willis of the case and immediately the wheels of the post office department began to turn. It has been provided that Varga will return to his native town of Guayamas as postmaster. His position there will be for life.

After thirty years the half starved waif who was glad to escape from the disease-ridden island will return to his old home, now a flourishing little city, with an American finish. And in occupying the position of postmaster he becomes the first citizen of the town and a person respected and looked up to by the entire population.

and Chastised, They Satisfy.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of rosewood. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

OTT DELIVERS STRONG LECTURE

Famous Educator and Lecturer Says
America Must Be On Her Guard.

The large audience which sat for two hours at Grace Church Tuesday night while Prof. Edward Amherst Ott, of Chicago, gave one of his greatest lectures, heard one of the most practical and forceful lectures delivered in this city in recent years.

Prof. Ott's theme was "Victory" or "America, On Guard!" He impressed the necessity of clinching the victory over autocracy and prompt dealing with radicals in America to insure safety for democracy.

Prof. Ott spoke plainly on all phases of his subject, including the danger of electing "little men to big offices" and of "political pull" in relieving dangerous criminals and convicts from state and federal prisons.

He likened democracy and autocracy to two pyramids, with the pyramid of democracy resting firmly with the apex upward, while the pyramid of autocracy rested on the small end, or apex, with the huge bulk above it, so that one man held the fortunes of the millions in his hands, while in democracy the chief executive was the apex. "We have a habit of removing the apex every four years in order that the apex will not become too firmly established," said the speaker.

He is against closing the door to aliens, but urges greater precaution on the class of aliens admitted to this country.

"Aliens must not forget that they are in our house, and invited themselves; they should not undertake to set up their form of housekeeping in our house, and should speak our language instead of expecting us to speak theirs."

Prof. Ott declared that a war had never been concluded by the men in the field, but by terms following the cessation of hostilities.

He berated the "foolish buying strike which is causing present business depression," saying that as soon as buyers resume their buying industry will go forward in a normal manner.

He lauded the initiative of real American citizens, and spoke of the dangers being instilled by some of the so-called educators of the day, and that some of the educators connected with leading educational institutions were radicals of the worst type.

FEARED SHE HAD HEART TROUBLE

Toledo Woman Is Like a Different Person Since She Began Taking Tanlac.

"Tanalac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I don't hesitate to recommend it to any one suffering like I did before taking it," declared Mrs. L. C. Albain, of 1675 Indiana Ave., Toledo, Ohio.

"I had been in poor health for six years and gradually got worse until I became so bad off I almost suffered a general breakdown. Nothing I ate seemed to digest properly, but caused awful pains in my stomach. I would bloat until I could hardly get my breath, and my heart palpitated so dreadfully I had heart trouble. I was worried constantly with pains across my back in the region of my kidneys, when I got up mornings I could hardly straighten up. My housework was a burden to me and I simply felt miserable.

"Some of my friends took Tanlac with such splendid results that I began taking it myself, and I'm certainly glad that I did, for it has made me feel like an entirely different person. Although I've only taken two bottles of the medicine so far, my stomach doesn't bother me and those awful pains have all disappeared from my back. My housework is a real pleasure to me now I sleep like a child every night. I'm going to take Tanlac a while longer to make sure of my good health, and I just can't speak highly enough of the medicine."

Tanalac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by J. W. Murphy and in Millersburg, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Orman Selden.—Adv

ANOTHER FIRM TO MAKE SAMPLE

In order to ascertain the kind of work and the price for which it can be done before letting the contract for re-decorating the Courthouse, the County Commissioners are having "sample" rooms finished.

A week or two ago they awarded such a contract to Sheets and Purcell, and Monday they awarded a contract for another room, Bryant and Sons of Columbus being the ones who have the second contract.

The walls are to be finished in oil and the entire work, which has long been badly needed, will reach into the hundreds of dollars.

MILK PRICES LOWER IF TICKETS TAKEN

The Clover Leaf Dairy announced Tuesday morning a decline in the price of milk effective as follows: pint card of 14 tickets, $1.05. The old price was $1.12. Quart card of 8 tickets, $1.12. Old price $1.20.

The reduction amounts to one cent a quart and to one-half cent a pint where tickets are purchased. This makes the new price 7 1/2 cents per pint and 15 cents per quart when tickets are taken.

DELLA SMALLEY RODGERS
By Miss Edna Good

Friendship, that gift of God! The broken tie, Ah! But could this dear friend have left us an inheritance richer than the example of her life of loyalty and truth. The summons came. She has enriched our lives. She passed on to continue in the spirit, kindly and sweetly, as had so fully been a part of her earthly way.

Endowed with a keen sense of duty well performed, she gave of herself the best. Seeing the beautiful in all nature, the birds, the trees, the flowers, she was happy in her ambition to live more closely unto them. Kind, sympathetic, generous, willing for any sacrifice for the comfort of another, hers were years of devotion and service. Modest and retiring, she clung to old and dear friends, while happy, also in the new. As was ever manifested in her daily walk, there was great strength of character, and definite aim to attain the high ideals, which were hers.

Entering this life on October 2nd, 1864, the girlhood days of Della Smalley Rodgers were happily spent with her parents, near Greenfield. Bereft of these loved ones many years ago, she moved to Greenfield, where she resided, save for comparatively short periods until her marriage to Peter L. Rodgers, on October 30, 1918, when she and her husband took up their abode near Washington C. H., only recently locating in Washington, where she passed away. An only brother, James to whom she tenderly ministered during his last illness, preceded her to the new home some years before.

Could more be said than this, that years of close association but strengthened the appreciation of her gentle life in its simplicity, in its spiritual richness and devotion to all things uplifting, supporting by her devout membership and affiliation with the First Presbyterian church. "In every flower that blooms around, Some pleasing emblem we may trace; Young love is in the myrtle frond, And memory in the pansy's grace, Peace in the olive-branch we see, Hope in the half-shut iris grows, In the bright laurel victory, And lovely women in the rose."

WILMINGTON TEAM PLAYS THURSDAY

Thursday evening instead of Wednesday is the date this week for the basket ball game on the Y. M. C. A. floor. The Wilmington Metors will clash with the Triangles.

The Metors come recommended as a fast and aggressive team, fully capable of giving the Triangles a stiff contest.

Although playing steadily with a game here and two out of town during the past week the Triangles are in the best of condition.

A valuable substitute has been discovered in Rush, at guard, and he played his position well in the second half of the game with Cedarville College Monday evening.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, back ache, dragging down sensations and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.—Adv.
